GI RIGHTS COUNSELING

Being in the military does not mean "signing away your rights." If you are experiencing difficulties with your military service, you may have rights you are not aware of. Stop in for walk-in G.I. Rights Counseling at Coffee Strong.

Our counselors are not like "the barracks lawyer" and do not offer legal advice, but we can inform you of what rights might apply to your situation and refer you to legal resources, if necessary.

When you come in for G.I. Rights Counseling, you are talking to veterans who want to help you, many of whom have been in your position or experienced similar situations. That is why we are here.

G.I. Rights Counseling can help with the following issues:

Harassment

Discrimination

Discharges

Don't Ask, Don't Tell

Conscientious Objection

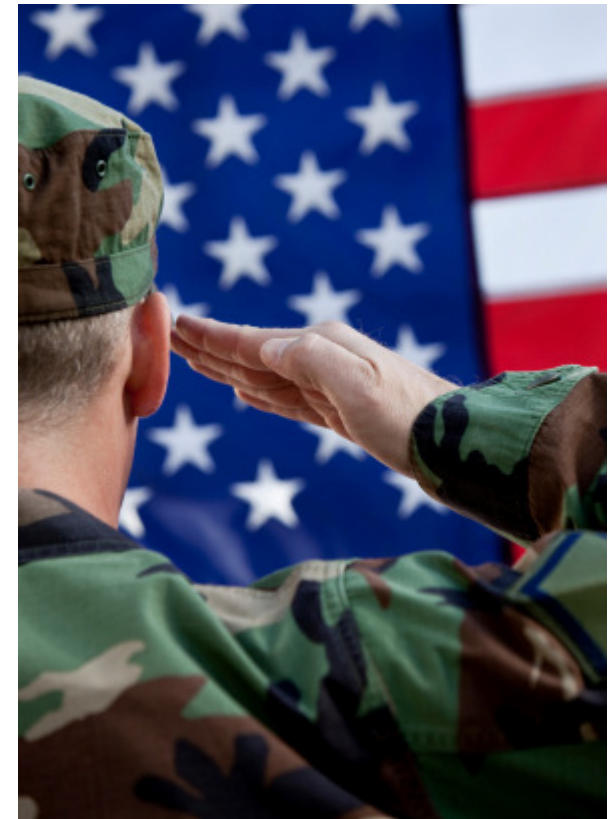

Hardship

AWOL

UA

and more...

Upholding standards

is a two-way street.
